

REMARKS

By this Preliminary Amendment, an obvious (from the text) informality in the specification is being corrected, and new claims 46 and 47 are being added to further define applicant's invention. Support for these new claims will be found in the original specification, for example, at page 5 lines 10-13. The addition of "new matter" has been scrupulously avoided. Claims 1 through 47 remain in this application.

Favorable consideration of this application is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,
